The sign of hope and triumph high."

FOR PRESIDENT,
HENRY CLAY, OF KENTUCKY.

WASHINGTON.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, NOV. 8, 1843.

THE LETTER OF THE SECRETARY OF THE NAVY.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22, 1843.

DEAR SIR: I have your favor of the 20th, and am obliged for the information about the meeting of the workmen of the Charlestown Navy Yard, consequent upon the recent order of the Department, fixing the rate of compensation the United States are willing to pay for specified services.

It is all very natural that the workmen should try all fair means to obtain a high rate of wages. I have no complaint to make of this course. I am aware, too, that small politicians will seize upon the measure and make capital out of it for their personal purpose; and against this I have no objections. I am perfectly willing to face, before the whole nation, the responsibility of this order, in its broadest and fullest extent. The order was given with no party or political object, but in obedience to what I conceived to be a duty to the country.

The workmen in the yards at Brooklyn and Charlestown, deducting the time for roll calls, work on an average, the year through, little, if any, over eight hours and a half per day. The prices paid for labor were from fifteen to twenty per cent. higher than the current rate of wages for like work paid by citizens outside the yards; and the day's work outside the yards is some fifteen to twenty per cent. longer than in the yards. The prices established by the recent order are in conformity to the current rate of wages for similar work outside the yards. I do not believe I have any more right to pay twenty per cent. above the market prices for labor, than to pay twenty per cent. above the market price for materials and supplies of clothes and provisions for the Navy.

Efforts will be made to induce the working men and producers as a class to believe that they are benefited by high prices paid to this portion of the laboring interest. These efforts, however, will fail. It is from the earnings of the laborers and mechanics outside the yards that those employed inside the yards are paid; and surely these can never desire that those employed by the Government shall receive more than they themselves earn, who labor on private works, to pay them.

The wages of the day laborer, on the most ordinary work, is fixed at one dollar per day. Head or master mechanics are paid three dollars per day. I will appeal to the laboring men throughout your State, if these be not fair prices. I know of hundreds, and I can find thousands, of worthy, competent men in Massachusetts, who would be exceedingly glad to accept these prices, and work two hours a day more for this pay than the operatives now work at the navy yards. It is to save the earnings of the working men, as a class, who finally pay all the expenses of the Government, that I have directed this just retrenchment. The measure is right in itself, and just to all parties; and so long as I have the control of the Navy Department I shall adhere to the order with unfaltering firmness. What I know to be right I will do, fearless of consequences.

Nothing can preserve the character and standing of the Navy but an energetic, just, and economical administration of its affairs; and sure I am the country will sustain all measures tending to this object.

I am, dear sir, very respectfully, your obedient servant.

DAVID HENSHAW.

Now, here is a sort of manifesto from the new Secretary in which he attempts, by a specious but shallow train of reasoning, to justify his own excessive zeal for economy at the expense of the mechanics and laborers in the navy yards. Evidently he expects and desires comment; he is ready to face the "whole nation" upon the subject of his "order." Well, as an humble individual, we propose to say something about it.

These workmen, whose wages he has cut down, work "deducting the time for roll-calls" (when it is to be supposed they are not sweating) "little, if any, over eight hours and a half per day." The Secretary goes on to say, that they work longer for less money outside the yard, and that he has no more right to pay above market price for work than for clothes and provisions for the navy. This, begging pardon for our plainness, is not true. In the one case the matter is in his own discretion, in the other he is obliged to publish proposals for the lowest bidder.

Efforts will be made to convince the working-men, says the Secretary, that they are benefited by high prices, &c., "but these efforts will fail." How so? We thought that Mr. Buchanan himself had backed out from his theory of low wages.

Again: "It is from the earnings of the laborers and mechanics outside the yard, that those inside are paid." Indeed! Then the laborers and mechanics are the only taxable class of persons in the country. But next comes the great error into which the Secretary has fallen, i. e., that the laborers "outside do not desire that those inside should have more than they themselves earn," &c. This appeal to the jealousy of such as are not so fortunate as to get employment from the Government, is in keeping with Locofocoism; but the mechanics are sufficiently intelligent to perceive that greater advantages will accrue to them by having a liberal standard of wages fixed by the Government, to which they can point private employers, as something tangible and permanent, than will possibly arise by having this Government step into the market to higgler about day wages, and screw the laborers down to the lowest possible point at which they can live and educate their children. As for the difference in the taxes which the "outside" workman will have to pay to sustain the difference in price paid to the "inside" workman, upon which the Secretary dwells so forcibly, why this is a very nice calculation, and one which we may readily suppose would not have entered the brain of every political economist; but the Hon. Secretary has been in the habit, probably, of weighing arsenic, corrosive sublimate, &c., in infinitesimal small doses, and can, therefore, calculate more closely than Smith or Malthus.

"The wages of the day laborer is fixed at one dollar, and the master mechanic at three dollars per day," and the Secretary says he can find hundreds and thousands that will gladly work two hours a day longer, for these wages, than those he has been cutting down. Now suppose we give the Boston apothecary a dose of his own logic, by telling him, and if the argument is legitimate in one case it is in the other, that there are hundreds and thousands who would gladly take his place "inside the yard," and work better and longer for vastly less than six thousand dollars a year.

We conclude our examination of the Secretary's letter with these remarks. There is not one mechanic or daily laborer in ten in this country, who gets fairly paid for the sweat of his brow. The Government ought to set a liberal example in their dealings with workmen. The wages of daily labor is the very last point where the Government ought to display their disposition for retrenchment.

GENERAL APATHY.

We do not see it announced in the Army and Navy Chronicle, but our advices from Tennessee, Georgia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, and Ohio, warrant us in asserting that this officer has been superseded by General Vigor. We take great pleasure in making this statement, although we part with the first named gentleman on the kindest terms. General Apathy was an easy good-natured fellow, affable alike to friend and foe. During an armistice he would do well enough, and no one was a better companion in a bivouac, but for a pitched battle give us the same commander we had in the last campaign—General Vigor.

Whig Convention in Va.—The Whig Central State Committee held a meeting in Richmond on the 1st instant, and among other resolutions, passed one fixing upon the 22d of February next as the time, and the city of Richmond as the place, for holding the Whig Convention which is to act upon the subjects of a candidate and electors for the next Presidency, and delegates to the Baltimore Convention.

Mr. McDuffie.—The Washington (Georgia) News of the 4th ult. says: "Mr. McDuffie assisted at a political discussion last week in Elbert county, when he was met by nine of the Georgia Whigs, in which, somewhat to the astonishment of the Democrats, he confessed that his opinions relative to the constitutionality of a United States Bank were unchanged, he still believed it to be constitutional. Though his health was very much improved, he contemplates retiring from the United States Senate next year."

Frost.—We in these regions, and further north, make a sort of jubilee of the opening of Spring, when the birds sing, and little girls and boys go a "Maying" after the first flowers. In the South they reverse the matter, and we see the Mobile and New Orleans papers announce with evident joy the visitation of frost, as the dispeller of sickness, and the signal for the return of visitors.

The Knickerbocker relates the following on the authority of Mr. Robert Tyler:

"The old negro who receives and ushers visitors at the President's mansion is always very precise in his announcements. On one occasion a gentleman named Foot, with a daughter on each arm, was shown into the drawing room with the introduction, 'Mr. Foot and the two Miss Feet.'"

The Knickerbocker may have the authority it cites for the above, but it is an old witticism, which we first heard many years since from Mathews, the celebrated ventriloquist, then acting at the old Federal street theatre in Boston, Mass.

The Chesapeake and Ohio Canal is now in navigable order throughout its entire length. The Williamsport (Md.) Banner of Saturday says that a brisk business is being done on it.

GENERAL BERTRAND.

The French consul arrived in this city on Monday evening from Washington, bringing information to General Bertrand that the President was then absent from the Capital, in consequence of which he changed the order of his route, and proceeded to Norfolk yesterday afternoon, intending to stop at Washington on his return. Having taken passage in the Havre packet from New York, to sail on the 24th, he is compelled to move rapidly.

It should have been mentioned yesterday that a large number of the Repeal Association called on General Bertrand on Monday, to pay their respects, and were presented by Hugh Jenkins, Esq. The members of the Calvert Society, also waited on him in a body, and who, through P. McNally, Esq., made an appropriate address to him.—Balt. Sun.

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

ARRIVAL OF THE BRITANNIA.

ARREST OF O'CONNELL!!

The Britannia arrived at Boston, Saturday evening, the 4th inst., sixteen days' from Liverpool.

From Ireland, the news is highly exciting; the Repealer, O'Connell, has been arrested, together with eight others; O'Connell entered into recognizance in the sum of £1,000, and immediately issued the following address to the people conjuring them to be tranquil:

"TO THE PEOPLE OF IRELAND."

"Beloved fellow-countrymen! I announce to you that which you will hear from other quarters, namely, that I have this day given bail to answer to a charge of 'conspiracy and misdemeanors' the first day of next term."

"I make this announcement in order to conjure the people, one and all, to observe the strictest and most perfect tranquillity. Any attempt to disturb the public peace may be most disastrous; certainly would be criminal and mischievous."

"Attend, then, beloved countrymen, to me. Be not tempted by any body to break the peace, to violate the law, or to be guilty of any tumult or disturbance. The slightest crime against the order or the public peace may ruin our beautiful and otherwise triumphant cause."

"If you will, during this crisis, follow my advice, and act as I entreat you to do, patiently, quietly, and legally, I think I can pledge myself to you that the period is not far distant when our revered Sovereign will open the Irish Parliament in College Green."

"Every attempt of our enemies to disturb the progress of Repeal hitherto has had a direct contrary effect. This attempt will also fail, unless it be assisted by any misconduct on the part of the people."

"Be tranquil, then, and we shall be triumphant."

"I have the honor to be, your ever faithful servant,
DANIEL O'CONNELL.
'Merriem Square, Oct. 14, 1843.'"

From China, the intelligence conveyed is also interesting. A favorable commercial treaty with England has been ratified, and trade is open again to all nations.

In Spain, all is tumult and confusion.

The troubles in Greece continue, and it is thought that King Otho will be obliged to abdicate.

EXCHANGE HOTEL.—A CARD TO THE PUBLIC.—The subscriber has opened a Hotel on C street, between Fourth and a-half and Sixth streets, immediately in the rear of Gadsby's Hotel. He will take boarders by the year, week, or day, and furnish meals to transient visitors at any hour of the day or night.

He has connected with his establishment a Reading Room, to which he invites citizens as well as strangers.

His porter (formerly Brown's) will attend to baggage to and from the Railroad, and every effort will be made to give satisfaction to those who may favor him with their company.
nov 8-31awt THOMPSON TYLER.

WILLIAM THOMPSON, Justice of the Peace, Police Magistrate, and Notary Public, will attend to official business every day, Sundays excepted, from 10 o'clock, A. M., until 3 o'clock, P. M. His office is at the corner of 6th street and Louisiana avenue; his dwelling is on the east side of 6th street, between E and F streets. The advertiser respectfully calls upon those defendants who desire him to act officially in their cases, to intimate this to the officer, and request him to leave the warrant when served on them at the office of the advertiser. He regrets to have occasion for stating, that by the unfair means which have been used by certain officers to persuade and deter defendants against appearing at his office, he has been deprived of a large amount of corporation and civil business, which was intended for him.

The advertiser is not so unreasonable as to expect the officer, when he arrests a stranger, or a citizen, in whose promise to appear before a justice of his own choice, no reliance can be placed, should indulge the defendant by taking his word. But it is hoped by the advertiser, that no attempt will hereafter be made by the officer to persuade, influence, or deter defendants, either in corporation or civil cases, from selecting the justice before whom their cases shall be tried, as the latter practice has always been the usage and courtesy of the most experienced and respectable officers, and is considered a reasonable privilege, if not a legal right, which every respectable defendant may claim, in the District of Columbia.

Notarial, Agency, and Collecting business will be faithfully attended to.
